a Couple of Hundred Dollars Secured by the Four Villains Escaped on the Engine-Pursuit

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] AUSTIN (Tex.,) Oct. 12.-This afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, in broad, open daylight and within twelve miles of the corporate limits of the city, the south-bound cannon-ball train on the International and Great Northern was held up by four men and robbed conductor of the train, Tom Healy, was shot by the robbers while resisting them, but fortunately was not se riously wounded. One of the passenger had his shirt collar carried away pistol ball that was aimed at his neck, and another received a bullet wound in the hand.

The passengers were robbed of some $200 in money. The bandits attempted to rifle the safe in the express car, but were unsuccessful

When the train reached McNeill, small station fourteen miles above this city, two heavily-armed men boarded the train and took up their stand on the rear platform. After the conduc-tor had checked up the train, he reached the platform only to find a pis-tol at either side of his head. The men demanded that he stop the train. He demanded that he stop the train. He declined to do so, and began to run through the train with the two robbers in close pursuit.

He had not gone half the length of he first car when the foremost robber shot him, bringing him to the floor with a pistol wound in the right arm. At this juncture the other robbers pulled the bell-cord and the train was brought to a standstill. It was evidently at the appointed place, for the train had hardly stopped before two other men, whose faces were covered with masks, stepped out from the trees and began shooting into the cars. Instantly all was confusion

The two men on the train were immediately joined by those from the woods and began their work. As the train porten sprang from the rear coach and ran for shelter a robber shooting at him, and the negro emptied his revolver in return without effect.

The express messenger looked out of his car, and, taking in the situation. left his car and ran through the woods and was soon lost to sight. The rob-bers, in the meantime, leaving two men to guard the three coaches, which were packed with passengers, pro-ceeded to the express-car and demanded that the baggage-man open the express safe, but upon being as-sured that he could not do so, turned sured that he could not do so, turned their attention to the passengers. They took only money from them, not over-looking a single cent, and walking two by two through the cars, so as to always keep their eyes on all th

After securing about $200 in this manner they uncoupled the engine from the train and started off down the track. After going several miles they set the lever at a moderate gait and left the engine, scampering into the surrounding country. The engine came to the dag station at Duval, four miles below, and was there cap-tured, and the station agent returned to the scene of the robbery with the engine, secured the train and came on to this city, arriving here shortly after dusk.

Officers have gone to the scene with bloodhounds to locate the robbers. The bloodhounds to locate the robbers. The two men who boarded the train at McNiell were not masked, but the other two bandits' features were concealed.

LATER:—The Sheriff and a posse have gone to the scene of the robbery, and a message at midnight is to the effect that they have struck the trail of two of the robbers. The night express, bound for St. Louis, which left here at midnight, was accompanied by an armed guard.

Mrs. Atkinson's Defense.

GLENVILLE (Va.,) Oct. 12.—Examination of Mrs. Atkinson, who was placed upon the stand in her own behalf, last night, was resumed this morning and she again took up the thread of her life's story. She admitted having written many letters' and signed many papers and documents for her husband, but always at his dictation and with his authority. She denied emphatically that she ever signed Judga Claradan's name after his death.

A SWELL WEDDING. Mary Philomene McPhee and

DENVER, October 12.-[Special Dis patch.] A beautiful wedding ceremony was witnessed this morning at St. Leo's church, when Miss Mary Philomene McPhee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McPhee, and John Bittinger Wright of Yuma, Ariz., were united in marriage. Two little pages in suits of white catin led the procession, folof white satin led the procession, fol-lowed by flower girls. The wedding was a green and white one, and the maids were dressed entirely in these colors. Gainsborough hats and Tosca sticks tied with bunches of chrysanthemums added a novel quaintness to

On the arm of her father, the bride came in, in the heaviest of pearl satin. The skirt proper was made with a short train, over which fell in straight rich folds from the shoulder a long court train, three yards in length. The bodice was made like a blouse front, and from either shoulder were cascades of rarest rose point lace. A large grace-ful bunch of bride's roses was the last touch of the elegant costume.

As the procession came out of the church, little flower girls scattered rose leaves in front of the bride and groom all the way to the carriage. This even-ing Mr. and Mrs. Wright left for a three weeks' trip through California, after which they will be at home at Yuma, Ariz. The going-away gown was of dark blue cloth, with braid of black and hat to correspond.

controls the Largest Iron-ore Properties in the Country. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.1

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—Andrew Carnegie has perfected the largest iron-producing combination in the world by securing the lease of the Tilden mine. He will voperate this big producer in connection with the Norrie and the group of mines which he owns in the Mesaba range. Dr. Nelson P. Hulst, the well-known mining expert, has been placed in charge of all the Carnegie mining interests.

The series of operations whereby the Carnegie interests have come into control of the greatest group of ironore producing properties in America constitute the most important movement that has taken place in the iron trade for years. When Carnegie got his Mesaba mines there was a good deal of interest in the matter, but it is only since the Norrie and the Tilden deals were announced that the importance and scope of the Pittsburgh concern's projects have become apparent. There are several mines in this combination, each of which can produce more ore than the Chapin. Nelson P. Hulst, the well-known min-

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: "Instructions to Minister Woodford are being prepared at the State Department for presentation to Spain of an-other demand for the immediate paynent of the claim for indemnity made by Samuel T. Tolon. The original de-mand was presented to the Madrid government by Mr. Taylor, who has just retired from the office of Minister. He stated in strong language that this government would expect Spain to pay the just claim of $50,000 as indemnity for the sufferings Mr. Tolon had endured. Spain's reply was that it was under no obligations to pay Tolon, and this has been followed by another statement which declares that the action of the Spanish authorities in Cubawas a gubernative measure and Spain would be unjust to herself should she indemnify Tolon. ANSWER TO WOODFORD.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MADRID, Oct. 12.-It is semi-off cially announced that the answer of Spain to the note presented by United Spain to the note presented by United States Minister Woodford has been drafted by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Señor Gallon, and will be submitted to the Cabinet tomorrow. The reply, it is stated, will say that Spain is unable to fix exactly the date when the war will be over, but the Minister is persuaded it will not be long, because the "situation of the rebels is critical." Owing to the rebel situation and the concession of autonomy, administrative and economic, which will be effective before January, the government hopes that actual hostilities will finish shortly.

Spain, it is continued, thinks the reforms and the activity of the Spanish troops sufficient elements to secure the immediate pacification of the island, which, it is asserted, would have been more rapid if the rebels had not had the "succor of fillbusters, who, under the shelter of the American flag, contributed to maintain this state of affairs."

KILLED BY BURGLARS. Mrs. Vane and Daughter Shot at Their Home.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) CAMDEN (N. J.,) Oct. 12 .- Mrs. Emma Vane, aged 65, widow of Capt. Eli Vane, and her daughter, Mrs. Sa-rah Shaw, aged 40, were shot and killed this morning, it is believed, by bur-glars. They lived at No. 242 Lynn street. Eli Vane, son of the elder woman, was laid up by typhoid fever. He was awakened shortly after 4 o'clock by awakened shortly after 4 o'clock by pistol shots. At the foot of the stairs he found his mother unconscious, and ran to the window and gave the alarm. When the police arrived they found Mrs. Vane sitting in a chair with a bullet wound in her head, dead. Mrs. Shaw was still alive, but died soon after her arrival at Cooper Hospital.

The shock occasioned a relapse in the condition of Vane, and his recovery is doubtful. A rear shutter had been removed from the house, and an entrance had evidently been effected by this means. The bureau drawers were also ransacked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—[Special Dispatch.] Howard Franklin. a pioneer of the Yukon, who claims the distinction of being the first man to discover gold in paying quantities on the tributaries of that stream, is now in the city. Franklin is a Canadian, who went into the country as early as 1833. He mined on the lower river, sailing down it in small boats. He prospected for five years, and mined as the opportunity afforded. About June 20 of that year he struck gold in paying quantities in what has since been known as Franklin Gulch. one of the richest-paying prospects in that country. He, with a number of companions, traveled 400 miles from the source of the river and struck bar diggings that proved fairly rich. In 1885, in company with Joe Ladue In 1885, in company with Joe Ladue, Franklin struck the site of Forty Mile, and after going up the creek some three miles found good prospects. Ladue was not satisfied, but Franklin went back next fall, and September 7, 1886, first found the coarse gold which has since made the Yukon country famous. Early in next year he struck Franklin Gulch, to which he gave his name, and the fame of that gulch directly led to the discovery of the rich diggings on Bonanza and El Dorado creeks. Franklin has also exploited diggings in Caribou and Cassiar districts. Be-fore leaving the Yukon country, he dis-covered a number of other placers, the location of which he has kept secret, but which he proposes to work during the coming spring.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SEATTLE (Wash.,) Oct. 12.-The schooner Bering Sea arrived here today from St. Michaels, which place she left September 20. The Bering Sea brings in no news of importance, beyond what has already been reported.

CAPT. TUTTLE'S REPORT. (ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Information received at the Treasury Department from Capt. Tuttle of the revenue cutter Bear, now cruising in Alaskan waters, does not paint a rosy description of scenes and prospects in the Klondike region. Writing from St. Michaels September 16, Capt. Tuttle says:

Michaels September 16, Capt. Tuttle says:

"There are in port seven sea-going vessels and six river steamers, with one steamer and one barge in process of construction on the beach. About three hundred people are encamped on the beach awaiting the completion of these vessels. At least seven vessels are expected to arrive, many of them with passengers. There is no possible chance of these people reaching the Upper Yukon this season, and they must winter here or at some point inside the mouth of the Yukon. While there will be an abundance of provisions, the trading companies having their main depots here, trouble is likely to arise from those who have no provisions and no means to purchase ions. The tracing companies having their main depots here, trouble is likely to arise from those who have no provisions and no means to purchain them. This, however, is a small matter, when taken into consideration with matters above Fort Yukon on the Yukon River.

"On September 13 the river steamer Milton returned from its up-river trip, having been unable to reach Circle City. Capt. Hill reported the river as low as to prevent his reaching his destination. His cargo was landed on the river bank. The steamers J. J. Healy, P. B. Weare, Alice, Bella and Marguerite are now up the river, but the prospects are that they will not be able to reach Circle City or Dawson.

"Laws in regard to the inspection of steam vessels are entirely disregarded, as no inspector of hulis or boilers has visited this place. At least sixteen such vessels are now running in this part of Alaska. If I should seize them, starvation would ensue to those who are depending upon these vessels to bring them provisions. At the same time hundreds of people are traveling on these vessels, which are without the safeguards to life that the law provides they shall have.

"A deputy collector of customs is stationed at St. Michaels, who is required to attend to all customs business. Frequently there are several vessels in port discharging bonded goods at the same time. It is impossible for one man to attend to all this business. After leaving St. Michaels there is no customs officers in charge of these goods. Vessels frequently get aground, and it is necessary to discharge the cargoes before they can be floated. Great opportunities are afforded to defraud the customs. There should be a customs officer on every vessel carrying bonded goods, and provisions should be made to have the vessels inspected as the law requires."

"I have been spending most of this shortly for the mines on Bonanza Creek, where I will remain until next spring. A new creek was struck this summer, known as Dominion Creek. It is tributary to Indian Creek. I succeeded in locating a claim on it in a very favorable location. There were two discoveries on the creek, and my claim is between them. I succeeded in holding my Davis-creek property this summer. The ground averaged after I bought it one ounce, or $1f, a day to the man for shoveling in.

"They are getting as high as $2500 to the pan on El Dorado Creek, and 3000 ounces, or $51,000, was taken out of one claim alone in about a week's shoveling at a total cost of perhaps $5000. At that rate there will be at least $4,000,000 in the claim."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Secretary

note of Lord Salisbury expressing Great Britain's declination to take part

Russia and Japan are to participate.
The essential features of Secretary Sherman's reply have been sent by cable to the British government, and the reply in full is now on its way to the British authorities.

and Japan, as well as Great Britain, present.

It is pointed out that, aside from the written correspondence to which Lord Salisbury has called attention, there were verbal negotiations between Ambassador Hay and His Lordship in which a specific reference was made to the participation of Husan and Japan. At one of these verbal exchanges, it is stated, Lord Salisbury said he would advice with the officials of the Foreign Office concerning the subjects discussed, which included the participation of Rusals and Japan.

Subsequently, on July 29, Ambassador Hay wrote to Lord Salisbury saying the President hoped to have Hussis and Japan participate in the conference. In view of these circumstances the United States had confidently expected that Great Britain would take part in the conference, and that Rusais and Japan would be represented, with the approval of Great Britain.

NATURAL PARTICIPATION OF THE P Dr. Oscar C. De Wolf,

Well known in Chicago as the Commissioner of Health for many years, and who is at present a member of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, is enthusiastic over the results achieved by Keeley methods, and writes to the Tribune as follows:

I visited Dwight last autumn, where I found six hundred and fifty-eight men under treatment. There were more than one hundred women, but I did not see them. I talked with many patients and knew see them. I talked with many patients and knew their history. It was a stupendous fact that these men, representing not only some of the brightest men in all the lines of professional and political life, but also the wortless and degraded outcasts gathered from 60,000,000 of our population, were all clothed in their right mind, happy and hopeful of recovery. I saw no evidence of harm from treatment, and to this day, although I have carefully sought for it. I have never seen one patient from Dwight that had not been benefited by this treatment. I MEAN BY THIS VITALITY AND PHYSICAL VIGOR HAD BEEN INCREASED, AND IN WELL-BOING AND WELL-BEING THE INDIVIDUAL HAD ORISEN IN THE SCALE OF MANHOOD. I have heard of lapses, but I have not met them. I need not individnalize. There are hundreds of examples all about me of men who, from worthless sots, have become useful citizens, and I believe that Dr. Keeley will stand in history as among the few great benefactors fast class. A number of the horses entered have either been found want-ing or have gone lame, but the sturdy ones remain to battle for the purse and a royal struggle can be anticipated.

The starters will be Galette, Jasper

Jasper Ayres, sometimes called the Vasalia horse, will naturally be made a favorite on the strength of his recent victories on the California circuit. He will take a world of beating, as he is seen on the Coast in years, and second only to Klamath. Jasper Ayres is fast, game and thoroughly reliable in a hard-fought contest, and is acknowledged to be one of the handlest horses in the country. Perkins will drive beats him will have to step a mile in 2:10 or better. Zombro is a son of Mc-Kinney, and is owned by George Becker. Charles Durfee will pilot the Southern California candidate.

San José will have Ethel Downs to do battle for the Santa Clara Valley. She is no stranger in this part of the world. In her first year on the turf she took a record of 2:13 in a fourth heat at Santa Ana, and every one of the race tomorrow. Bunch has Ethe during the first part of the circuit, but she did not train on as well as Jasper Ayres and several others, and judging by the most recent trotting races, she looks to be up against too hot a field. Walter Maher will drive

Galette.

Margaret Worth showed such improvement at San José that Franklin has concluded to start the mare. She is said to be able to trot miles around

THE CURSE

Of mankind—contagious blood poison—claimed as its victim Mr. poison—claimed as its victim Mr. Frank B. Martin, 926 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and the usual physician's treatment did him not the slightest good. His condition reached that deplorable stage which only this terrible disease can produce. ease can produce.

After all else failed, was at last found in S. S. S.—the greatest of all blood remedies. Eighteen bottles removed the disease permanently, and left his skin without a blemish.

same car. This string consists of Iron Alto (2:19½, Claudius (2:14½). Our Boy (2:12¼,) and Ethel Downs (2:10). Jourdan & Franklin's Fanadma (2:19½,) and Margaret Worth (2:15½,) also came in from San José yesterday. P. W. Hodges of Santa Ana brought Alias (2:20½,) Palermo (2:16½,) and George W. McKinney from San José. Bob Marks of Kansas City arrived in the city yesterday. He is the owner of Marquise, a speedy mare who defeated Grady at a mile and a quarter recently. In the race against a bicycle rider at San José. Our Boy pacéd a mile very close to 2:09. He strikes Anaconda on the opening day of the meeting, and is to meet the free-for-all crowd on Saturday. omorrow, and the directors confidently expect the greatest opening-day crowd in the history of the association, as the programme offered is by long odds one of the strongest ever presented in this city. Los Angeles contains many ad-mirers of the light harness horse, and consequently the liveliest interest is being evinced in the 2:12 trot, which is the first race on the opening-day pro-gramme. This event is for a purse of $1200, and closed on July 1 with the grand list of fourteen entries, which is unprecedented in the West for such a day.

Good judges predict that Joe Wheeler and Seachlight are either liable to pace the mile in 2:05. Silkwood looks to be "up against it' against such extremely fast horses.

"up against it' against such extremely fast horses.

A carload of runners arrived from Fresno yesterday afternoon. It contained Farrar and Tuberville's Polish, J. Cavanaugh's Marcia A, Timmons & Marks's Marquise, I. Linell's Viking, a jumper; Gus Marlon's Mestor, a jumper; T. Kelly's Gold Dust, a jumper; Bert Edsall's Decision, Judge Tam's Roadwarmer and Bodacia, Frank Starkey's Jim Bozeman, Lou Rockman's Capt. Coster and George Tibbett's Gold Bug, Lady Kern, Trilby and Queen May.

During the races the cars on the University line will run direct to the entrance gate at Agricultural Park.

People are arriving from all parts of the State to attend the meeting, and already the hotels are well filled with strangers.

Sunday's Ball Games.

in the country. Perkins will drive him.

Probably the most formidable rival to the Visalia trotter is Zombro, who made a record of 2:13 and was invincible in his three-year-old form.

Zombro was amiss in 1896, but he is now ready to go the race of his life. He trotted sensational races at both Marysville and Chico, but the hard contest had a tendency to prevent him training on, especially as he was given a hurried preparation. He has now had the benefit of a month's careful training since his last race, and good judges predict that he will go the race of his life tomorrow, and the horse that beats him will have to step a mile in 2:10 or better. Zombro is a son of Mca meeting of the management of Fiesta Park held last evening it was decided that the ball games next Sundeeded that the ball games next Sunday aftermoon shall begin at 1:30 p.m.

The Los Angeles Examiner tournament team will play the Seventh Regiment team, and the winner will play the Echoes. These are the opening games of the championship series for the $200 purse hung up by the association.

EXTRACTING PERFUMES What Could be Done with Orange

Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce has been busily inves-tigating the possibilities of the extracting perfume from California flowers, and to that end, has written to evperimenters to ascertain for the benefit of eastern inquirers how far the industry can be made practicable in this country. Following is the reply he has received from G. C. Gilbert, of

she took a record of 2:13 in a fourth heat at Santa Ana, and every one of the previous heats in the same race, was a contest into the bargain. At San José last week she trotted a great race against Jasper Ayres, and took two heats in 2:10 and 2:10½ respectively, and showed such improvement over previous races as to warrant the prediction that she will be among the money winners in the race tomorrow. Bunch has Ethel Downs this year.

Mamie Griffin possesses great stam, ina and endurance, and will be an element if it takes more than six heats to decide the race. She won a seven-heat race at Chico after both Jasper Ayres and Zombro had two heats to their credit. It was the fastest seven-heat race ever trotted in California. Sullivan is the driver of Mamie Griffin.

fornia. Sullivan is the driver of Mamie Griffin.

Chris Petersen on his Montana farm would have a royal chance, but his most recent races in California would make it appear that he has trained off. He has developed into a bad actor in negotiating the first turn, but as it is over two weeks since he participated in a race, Shaner may have the son of Deputy right on edge for the race tomorrow.

Galette, 2:12%, showed great promise during the first part of the circuit, burned the bridges behind him to the extent of stating on the witness stand that the officer who arrested him treated him kindly.

Larney was arrested last Saturday night by Officer Matuszkiewiz for disorderly conduct at First and Los Angeles streets. ing with his liberty. But despite his remonstrance he was placed in durance vile at ten minutes past midnight and kept there till the church bells called the truly devout to worship on Sunday morn. Larney was then released on $10 cash bail for his appearance in Police Court Monday afternoon.

It had been intimated that Larney would endeavor to bring the matter of his arrest before the Police Commissioners on the contention that it was due to police spitework on account of the Shields incident. Larney did go so far as to tell his troubles to Police Commissioner Gibbon and ask his advice. Mr. Gibbon advised him to secure the services of an attorney and fight the case if he considered himself innocent of the charge, after which if he had any evidence to prove false arrest, there would be time enough for the commission to investigate, but under no circumstances should he prefer charges unless he had rellable witnesses to back them up. Mr. Gibbon, while emphatically declining to interest himself any further in Larney's case, did do him the additional kindness to request one of the police sergeants to have his case continued for one day, so he could arrange for coursel and get his witnesses together.

Accordingly Larney was not in court when his case was called on Monday, and a continuance was granted for

The proposed summoning of this cloud of witnesses did not appear this cloud of witnesses did not appear to give the defendant and his counsel much comfort, so after parleying for a while as to the continuance of the case, they decided to change their plea of not guilty to guilty, and have done with the trial at once. This plea was accepted and the taking of evidence proceeded.

time the warrant for the arrest of Larney was in the hands of the police, who were trying to obtain service. Mr. Chambers telephoned the desk clerk to withdraw the warrant. Officer Cleotte, who was acting clerk at the time, could not find it and failed to make mention of it to the clerk who relieved him. the evening. The warrant called for $50 cash bail, and the clerk then on duty said Larney would have to go behind the bars unless the money was forth-coming. Larney appealed to Capt. Roberts, and explained that Deputy District Attorney Chambers had dismissed the case. The captain said there was no record to that effect, and while he did not doubt the prisoner's statement he could not release him without an order from the court or a representative of the District Attorney's office. An effort was made to reach Mr. Chambers by telephone, but without success. Larney then offered to pay an officer to take him to Mr. Chambers's house near the south city limits. The captain said it was not incumbent upon him to send officers on such errands, but if he could spare a man he would do so without pay. About this time Special Officer Shields arrived on the scene, and some one suggested that Larney subsidize him to go. The captain said he would allow Shields to take the prisoner to the Deputy District Attorney, provided Shields was willing, but he would not order him to go. Larney poid with apparent cheerfulness. Mr. Chambers was found and consented to let the prisoner go on his own receg-

Larney was profuse in his thanka, and Shields thought he had done a kind act to help the man avoid spending a night in jall. But after the case was dismissed, Larney felt aggrieved at being out $2 on the transaction. He accordingly laid the matter before Police Commissioner Gibbon, who summoned Shields before the board, with the result that the officer was relieved of his star.

sult that the officer was relieved of his star.

But the dismissal of Officer Shields did not end the trouble between Larney and his late partner, Craig. Last Friday the two had a physical encounter over that $18, in which Larney came out second best. The result was that Larney swore to a complaint charging Craig with battery. It was this document that Larney was displaying at Hugh Smith's saloon Saturday night. A warrant for Craig's arrest was issued Monday, and he surrendered himself that afternoon. Craig says he will have witnesses to show that Larney was the aggressor.

Larney says Craig and his gang have threatened to drive him out of town, and it was some of them who attacked him Saturday night, which resulted in his arrest. He refused to divide the $18 over which there has been so much trouble, with Craig, because, Larney alleges, Craig owed him more than that amount, and did not do his half of the

According to the story told the police by Wozencraft, he is a laboring man employed by the Los Angeles Gas employed by the Los Angeles Gas Light Company. Yesterday afternoon, he avers, he visited his sister, whose name, he said, is Agnes Wozencraft, on Summit avenue. When returning about 7 o'clock last night he noticed two men hovering near the Aliso-street bridge. One, described as a short, heavy-set man, approached Wozencraft and asked for a match. This was given, when the man suddenly grabbed Wozencraft by the collar. Wozencraft struggled with his assailant, who tore the bosom from Wozencraft's shirt. The other man, described as tall and wearing a gray overcoat and white wearing a gray overcoat and white hat, then hit Wozencraft over the head with some blunt instrument; and then with some blunt instrument; and then both ran away.

Wozencraft says he was not rendered insensible, and after watching the footpads disappear down the street, he started for the Police Station. He still possessed his watch and 25 cents, but says that $1.30 which was tied in the corner of his handkerchief, was taken. Later, when asked regarding his sister, Wozencraft sald she was the wife of a police officer, although a short time before he had given her name as identical with his own. Several little inconsistencies were noted in his story, and it is the opinion of the police that he experienced nothing more than a street fight.

At the meeting of the board of di-ectors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association last Monday evening the failure of the City Coun-cil to take action on the petition of cil to take action on the petition of the association in regard to the street sweeping by hand was thoroughly discussed. It was the unanimous opinion of the board that the continued filthy condition of the streets necessitates an immediate remedy, and that the association is justly entitled to at least the courtesy of a reply.

Secretary Zeehandelaar was instructed to address a communication to the Council requesting an early decision in the matter.

The following new members were elected: George W. Walker. Paul B. Perkins, E. B. Davidson & Co. T. T. Jones & Son, Glass & Long, and B. V. Collins.

Hon. C. C. Wright was unanimously elected attorney for the association to attend to all legal matters connected with the affairs of the association. Resolutions were unanimously passed urging Congress to create a Department of Commerce and Industry.

The discrimination in transportation charges against Los Angeles and in favor of San Francisco relative to the San Joaquin Valley was thoroughly discussed, and it was shown that in view of the present freight rates the merchants of Los Angeles are practically barred from any business relations beyond the Tehachepi Pass. The matter was referred to Attorney Wright for action.

It was decided to discuss at the regular meeting of the association next Monday evening certain rules for the betterment of the trade conditions in this city, and on that occasion refreshments will be served. the association in regard to the street

SECTION TWENTY-TWO.

Some differences of opinion arisen as to the scope and the exact meaning of Section 22 of the new tariff law, which relates to the imposition of discriminating duties in prevent these practices, but it is befavor of merchandise brought to the United States in American ships. The section in question reads as follows:

Section 22. That a discriminating duty of 10 per centum ad valorem, in addition to the duties imposed by law, shall be levied, collected, and paid on all goods, wares, or merchan-dise which shall be imported in ves-sels not of the United States, or which being the production or manufacture of any foreign country not contiguous to the United States, shall come into the United States from such coming into third states from such contiguous country; but this discriminating duty shall not apply to goods, wares, or merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States, entitled at the time of such importation by treaty or concention to be entered in the ports of the United States on payment of the same duties as shall then be payable on goods, wares, and merchandise imported in vessels of the United States, nor to such foreign products or manufactures as shall be imported from such contiguous countries in the usual course of strictly retail trade."

While the language of this section may be open to the charge of some technical ambiguity, there is no room for doubt as to the intent of this provision of the law. It was plainly designed to afford to American shipping, so far as practicable, a measure of protection commensurate with the protection which the law extends to American enterprise and labor on The obvious intent was to restore to the American merchant marine its old-time prestige, by means of the wise policy which was most potent in establishing that prestige in the early days. If section 22 has fallen short of the accomplishment of its obvious intent and purpose, the failure is technical rather than vital, and can be effectually remedied by supplementary action on the part of

If such supplementary legislation be necessary, the Republicans in Congress are in honor and in duty bound enact it at the next session. The principle involved has received the approval of the American people, and therefore it has all the binding force of a mandate from that tribunal of last resort and of final authority. The Republican National Convention which nominated William McKinley for President of the United States expressly declared in its platform for this principle, as follows:

'We favor restoring the early Amer-ican policy of discriminating duties for the upbuilding of our merchant for the upbuilding of our merchant marine and the protection of our shipping in the foreign carrying trade, so that American ships—the product of American labor, employed in American shipyards, sailing under the Stars and Stripes, and manned, officered and owned by Americans—may regain the carrying of our foreign commerce. Section 22 of the Dingley tariff was drafted in conformity to this express declaration of the national Republican platform of 1896. If it is defective-if it fails in any particular to carry out this express declaration, which has received the overwhelming indorsement of the people-it must be amended by Cougress to conform to the popular mandate.

American shipping is as clearly en titled to protection as is American enterprise in other lines of industry. To the withdrawal of protection from our ocean carrying trade is due in chief part the decline of the American merchant marine. With the restoration of adequate protection our merchant marine will regain the position of supremacy which it ought occupy in the commerce of the

Upon the Republican Congress will devolve the duty of remedying any defects or ambiguities which may be found in the existing law. It is due to the people, who gave their un-qualified indorsement to the Na-tional Republican platform of 1896, what the declarations of that platand to the letter.

achieved a marked and emphatic success.

"La Gioconda," an opera by Ponchielli with all the ear-marks of music of the Italian school, was the bill for last night. Unfortunately for a happy understanding of "what it was all about," the programme contained no argument of the piece, and as a consequence only those who understood the language of suny Italy were able to thoroughly grasp the situation; but, briefly stated, the story is to this effect:

La Gicconda, a singer (Signorian Nina Mazgi) is beloved by one Barnaba (Cesare Cloni), a minstrel of bohemian tendencies, but his passion is not reciprocated, and in a spirit of revenge he drops a missive in the lion's mouth, giving notice to the Venetian inquisition that the blind mother of La Gioconda, La Cjera (Beatrix Franco), is a sorcerose, whereat she is torn from her daughter's arms, but is later on released, only to be subsequently abducted by Barnaba and put to death. La Gioconda is in love with Prince Enge Grimaldo (Gluseppe Agostini), of the court of Genova, and that same fortunate individual is also the lover of Laura, wife of the Doge (Adelina Fanton). The Doge, or as indicated in the bill of the opera, the Inquisite of Laura, wife of the Doge (Adelina Fanton). Verdi, who, on Sunday last, passed his eightieth birthday, the company will give "Il Ballo in Maschera," in four acts. This was the last work Verdi wrote for the Italian stage. In the intensity of the music and the strength of the situation, it is superior even to "Il Trovatore." Tonight Sig. Colienz, the "magnificent Collenz," as he is hailed in Mexico, will make his debut as Ricardo. He is a wonderful singer, if we are to believe advance criticism, especially in the duo d'amore, in the third act, and in the death scene. Another famous artist who appears for the first time this evening is the great soprano, Signorina Linda Montanari, who will assume the role of Amelia. In the duo with Sig. Collenz, she has received an ovation wherever she has appeared. The press of the City of Mexico has pronounced her a wonderful artist, singing with exquisite feeling and with a simplicity which captures her hearers. Sig. Cesare Cloin will be heard as Renato; Signorina B. Franco, as Ulrica. The scene of the opera is laid in Boston, Mass.—the time the colonial period.

THE BURBANK. The sub-title of "The District Attorney," which explains that it is "a story of New York city politics during the Lexow Senatorial Investigating Committee sessions." has a sound that might be rather terrifying to the ordinary theater-goes not particularly interested in political scandals, but the play itself subordinates all outward complications, political or otherwise, to the living human interest which throbs through every line. It is by far the strongest piece yet put on at the Burbank by the Broadway Theater Company. Were it not for the uniform excellence of the company, it might easily be a one-man play, but as it is, the parts are so well taken throughout that hardly one of them falls below the level of keen interest maintained from beginning to end. Of course, Charles Hallock takes the part of John Stratton, the District Attorney, a character which should bring rejolcing to the heart of any actor. John Stratton is a clever American lawyer, of high reputation and unblemished integrity, who has been raised to the position of District Attorney through the influence of his father-in-law, Matthew Brainerd, a leader in ring politics in New York. Stratton shows a disposition to conduct the affairs of the office with honesty, which is particularly distasteful to the political heelers in Brainerd's train. The position of the District Attorney is made still more difficult by a conspiracy which he undertakes to uncarth, and which has placed an innocent man in prison. After he has fairly embarked in the investigation, he discovers that the really guilty man is his wife's father, the man to whom he owes his success in life, and then comes the conflict between the overwhelming desire to save his family from disgrace, and his duty to the people as public prosecutor. With such a basis, the story could hardly fall to be of peculiar interest to an American audience. It abounds in strong dramatic situations, and each character is a type in itself of American homes. Susie Jeson takes with marked success the part of the elder, the wife of Stratton, and Helen Henry makes the most of the sight part of Madge, the young politics during the Lexow Senatorial Investigating Committee sessions," has a sound that might be rather terrify-

PROHMAN AND HAYMAN TO DROP

Nine-tenths of the First-class tractions in America Will Withheld from This Side of Continent-They Say They Can-not Make it Pay.

[BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.] NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—[Special Dis-patch.] The play-goers of San Fran-cisco and Los Angeles must in future to without the controlled by the Hayman syndicate. Hayman, who owns a few theaters in San Francisco, says this condition of affairs may last forever. Frohman says it will continue for a year at least, perhaps for two years, and it is not improbable that the syndicate of which he and Frohman are the heads may withdraw their busin altogether from the Pacific Coast. This is rather startling news, w t is remembered that this syndicate controls nine-tenths of the first-class attractions on the boards in America today. The action of Frohman and Hayman not only applies to Frohman companies such as the Empire Stoca Company.

Hayman not only applies to Frohman companies such as the Empire Stock Company. Lyceum Stock Company, the organizations of John Drew and Maude Adams, but it reaches also Crane, De Wolfe Hopper, Soi Smith Russell, Kiaw & Erianger's people and a score of stars whose names and faces are familiar to the Pacific-Coast theater-goers, beside Beerbohm Tree, E. S. Willard and other English folks whom Frohman imports.

The present season on the Coast will be carried as lightly as possible, and at its close the doors of the theaters will be darkened as far as the syndicate's productions go. "Under the Red Robe," which will be seen at the Baldwin next week, would have been withdrayn had not the company been en route to the Coast when the decision to drop San Francisco from the list was reached. Among the attractions booked for the Haldwin for the present season, and which have been cancelled are Ciliette in "Secret Service" and Maude Adams in "The Little Minister." Both Frohman and Hayman deny that pique or animosity has phompted them to this action. San Francisco, they say likes cheap shows and, therefore, is a losing town. They cannot do business with profit, and withdraw from the field.

"Up to three years ago," Frohman said, "we made money in San Francisco. In the past two years the attractions we have sent there have cost us $100,000. That sum represents cur

"Up to three years ago," Prohman said, "we made money in Sah Francisco. In the past two years the attractions we have sent there have cost us $100,000. That sum represents our losses. Henry Irving played to the largest business in San Francisco's theatrical history, $60,000 for the run. Our share of the profits amounted to $250. We sent Crane to the Cuast a short time ago. He did not want to go, and we were forced to offer him extra inducements besides paying all traveling expenses. The result was enough to make angels weep. The receipts hardly paid the hotel hills of the company. This case is one out of many.

the company. This case is one out of many.

"San Prancisco has always demanded first-class attractions. The standard is a difficult one to judge. We rely upon the verdict of New York theater-goers. New York passes judgment favorably and the attraction is sent to san Francisco. The critics of the Coast roast it and us for sending it to them, and then tell the public in their columns how much better their own star companies can render the same piece."

Al Hayman corroborated Frohman. If anything, he was more emphasic.

FREIGHT RATES CUT.

All Lines Between Chicago and Denver in On It. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

IASSOCIATED PRIESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—All of the lines, between Chicago and Denver have met the reduced freight rates announced yesterday by the Burlington road. The cut rates will remain in effect until a complete understanding is reached with the southwestern lines regarding the rates made by the Mailory line via Galveston, which were the cause of the reduced rates made by the Burlington. The reduced rates made by the Mailory line via Galveston were cutting down the business of the western roads between Chicago and Denver, and there was nothing for them to do but cut the rates or see the traffic go in some other directions.

The lines between Chicago and Denver claim that they would not have been compelled to reduce rates if the roads between the Guif of Mexico and Colorado common points had maintained rates, but it is asserted that they were all the time cutting them and that, therefore, it became necessary for the Chicago-Denver roads to follow their example.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Prof. William Libbey of Princeton University has furnished the Asseclated Press with the following observations concerning criticisms upon his recent work of Mesa Encantada, or Enchanted Mesa, in New Mexico.

st Mesa Encantada, or Ruchanted Mesa, in New Mexico:

"The main point in the discussion of the verity of the myth in connection with this famous rock seems to have been left out of account. After scaling the Mesa, last July, I stated that to my mind it had not been inhabited. Mr. Hodge's party went to the top in September, and, finding certain rolles, maintained that it had been inhabited. It seems to me, a great deal depends upon what is meant by the word inhabited. A temporary visit cannot in any sense constitute such a position a permanent residence. The catralike pile of rocks, which I am glad Mr. Hodge so clearly decides is a cairn, is possibly the best proof of a mere visit, for even primitive peouple are not given to building cairns in their back yards. They construct piles in that region which were due only to erosion.

"If a village or permanent residence had ever existed on the top of the mesa, all traces of it have been completely chilterated," was the answer given by Mr. Hodge to an intelligent citizen of that part of the country, to a direct question upon this subject, shortly after his citims. If so, why try to construct a sechnical proof of inhabitation, hand upon the finding of a few relies. I am sorry that Mr. Hodge has not made any statement ever his own eigensture, for I cannot impute to him the finding in the cities of the practice, who have appeared in print to attack us, as for example: In the early summer it was otated that two years ago be tried to make the assemble in the arrival summer it was contact that two years ago be tried to make the assemble his was unsuccessful, because of the proceptious character of the racks, which seems quite reasonable, in view of even his capetieree this summer. FOSTER RAPE CASE ON TRIAL.

THE COMPLAINING WITNESS, LEE MAYNE, TESTIFIES.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association does not propose to allow the question of street-sweeping to be ignored by the Council. A vigorous re-minder was sent to the city fathers yesterday. Many of the recently-pro-testing property-owners on Spring street are experiencing a change of heart, and a number of them have signed a new petition asking that the street be repayed.

The Police Commissioners yesterday rejected an application for a saloon license, in accordance with the wishes of residents in the vicinity.

POLICE BOARD TURNS DOWN A WOULD-BE SALOON-KEEPER.

The Question of Street-sweeping Again Brought Forward by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association - Spring-street Re-

The meeting of the Police Commissioners yesterday morning was largely occupied by the consideration of J. S. application for a salcon icense at No. 1818 South Main street. Strong protests had been entered by many residents in the vicinity, and many of them were on hand to empha-size their objections. Their opposition proved successful, and the application was finally denied by the commission-

Several written protests had been filed. One of them bore the signatures of a large number of citizens, and con-tained this emphatic expression of the protestants' views concerning the sa-influence nor our property depreciated by its presence."

Application for a license was origin-ally made several months ago, but was beaten at that time by the protests of property-owners. The report by the Chief of Police upon Pervier's present application showed that he had succapication showed that he had succeeded in securing the signature of G. A. Dobinson, representing the Calahan estate, so that the applicant now had fine consent of a little more than two-thirds of the frontage.

George A. Howard addressed the board and made an earnest protest against granting the license. He said that 200 residents of the neighborhood had joined in the protest, representing Councilman Toll was among the objectors, and said that as there are not now enough policemen to properly patrol the city, he was opposed to licensing the saloon, which would inevitably add to the lawlessness already existing. Mrs. Mary Marco made an earnest appeal to the board, saying that she has devoted her life to the rescue of young girls who had been ruined in saloons, and that she could not believe the commissioners would add to the pitfalls that are already so numerous. J. S. Pervier, the applicant, made a plea in his own behalf, and went through the usual professions as to the good character of the saloon he would run if granted a license. His remarks were seconded by an orator named Ryan, who had prepared and committed to memory an elaborate address. Unfortunately he lost his cue when half way through his oration, and was unable to recover his train of thought. His contribution to the discussion was not particularly weighty.

The protestants succeeded in convincing a majority of the commissioners that their objections were well founded. On motion of Mr. Gibbon the application was denied. Mr. Preuss alone votting in favor of granting it.

The application of G. B. Lavagnino for a transfer of the saloon license at No. 1558 San Fernando street from John Ghio to himself was granted.

This order is imperative, and applies to all officers from captain down."

SPRING-STREET REPAVING. Marked Change of Heart Among

For some time past a petition has been in circulation on Spring street, asking that the Council again commence proceedings for repaying the street. This petition was started in view of the probability that the proceedings now pending for repaying the street will be defeated by the protest which was filed. The law provides that no new proceedings can be commenced for a period of six months un-ess a new petition is presented, signed by a majority of the frontage. There is a good prospect that the signatures of owners of a majority of the front age will be secured to the petition nov being circulated, as only a small amount of frontage is now lacking.

A notable circumstance is the fac that 1900 feet of frontage which re cently protested against repaying is now in favor of it, the owners having signed the new petition. This renders signed the new petition. This renders it certain that, even if the attempt to get a majority of frontage on this petition should prove a failure, there can be no successful opposition to the improvement six months hence. The obdurate owners who are refusing to sign the petition have only to consider whether they will pay for the improvement now or six months later. The ment now or six months later. The petition contains the proviso that the cost shall not exceed 9 cents per square foot, which amounts to about $1.75 per

STREET-SWEEPING.

Protest from the Merchants'

The following communication to the Council was filed with the City Clerk yesterday afternoon by Secr. Zeehandelaar of the Merchants' Manufacturers' Association: "To the Honorable City Council of Los Angeles—Gentlemen: I instructed by the Board of rectors of the Merchants' Manufacturers' Association your attention to the fact that on September 27, a resolution was presented to you, passed by this associa-tion urging upon your honorable body to order the sweeping of certain streets therein mentioned by hand, under the communication was accompanied by a petition signed by almost every mer chant on the principal thoroughfares, strongly urging that that method of street sweeping be adopted by your

"At a meeting of the City Council "At a meeting of the City Council on that day the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works and the Committee on Finances with instructions to report back to your body in the afternoon of that day. Up to the present time no answer has been received, and beyond a discussion between 'these two bodies and a committee from this association evidently no attempt has been made by the Council to urge any definite conclusion. "We believe that a petition on a matter of so much importance, presented by a large body of representative citizens who are among the heaviest taxpayers, should receive more prompt attention from your hands, and should be entitled to proper recognition. The work of sweeping the main streets by hand, as urged in these resolutions, is one of the utmost importance to this city. The present filthy condition of the streets has caused severe criticism, not only on the part of the public press and of the merchants, but of tourists who cannot fail to form a very unsatisfactory opinion of our city. "The sweeping of the main business portion by hand is a necessity that can not be ignored any longer by the Council, and an immediate action on the petition of this association is urgently requested." on that day the matter was referred to trial before Judge Smith and a jury yesterday afternoon. A jury was soon selected and Miss Lee Mayne, the com-plaining witness, was called to the stand.

The points set forth in the complaint are that on the night of June 27 las Lee Mayne went to her home, which is in Downey, from church. She retired with her sister Kate. After she had been asleep for some time, the defendant, John Foster, a man about 45 years of age, entered her room through window and, picking her up from the a window and, picking her up from the bed, carried her away, assaulting her, a short distance from the house. These charges were testified to by Lee Mayne at the preliminary examination and reiterated from the stand yesterday. The complaining witness is a mite of a girl about 13 years of age. She was extremely timid, and reluctant to give her testimony. Her sister, who followed upon the stand and who is about two years her junior, told her story her testimony. Her sister, who followed upon the stand and who is about two years her junior, told her story between sobs, not much of anything save that Lee was sleeping in the same bed with her, being elicited.

Dr. Q. J. Rowley of Downey testified that he had examined the complainant and he swore that there was no evidence of an assault having been committed. There was not the slightest evidence that the girl's virginity had been destroyed at any time.

A point brought out by the defense in Lee Mayne's testimony was that she was not positive as to whether it was Foster who committed the alleged assault, or an old schoolmate of hers. Thus the material question of identity was raised and it may have an important bearing upon the result of the trial. The contention of the defense, aside from a denial that Foster committed rape upon the person of the complainant, is that, at most, merely an attempt at outrage was committed by some person, as yet unknown, the evidence tending to show that Miss Mayne was taken from her bed on the night of June 27 seems to be quite strong in was taken from her bed on the night of June 27 seems to be quite strong in that it is corroborated by witnesses other than the complaining witness and her sister. A member of the household heard a noise in the girl's room, and upon investigation, found Lee to be missing.

Testimony for the prosecution will be resumed tomorrow. There are many resumed tomorrow. There are many witnesses to be examined on both sides.

The case was submitted shortly before noon yesterday.

The charge upon which Davis has been on trial in Judge Smith's department is that of forgery. Davis, the complaint alleges, was a party to a transaction in which a deed to lot I in the Daly tract, belonging to L. H. Greene, was forged and a mortgage issued upon which $1000 was obtained from the Columbia Savings Bank. Davis, to whom the deed was issued, and who obtained the money from the bank, made the defense that he believed the transaction to be perfectly legitimate, transaction to be perfectly legitimate, and that the idea of the deed having been forged never entered his head.

Habitual intemperance and abuse were the grounds upon which Judge York Issued a decree of divorce to A. L. Hess from her husband, B. L. Hess. The plaintiff testified that her husband had been drawing a salary averaging had been drawing a salary averaging about $130 per month, but in the face of this he had mortgaged everything within his control to obtain money with which to pay for drinks.

SEEKING TUPPER'S RELEASE. An Echo of the Famous "Kid" Thompson Case.

Bernard L. Mills made application in the Supreme Court yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus for C. Li Tupper, who is serving a five-years' sentence in San Quentin for attempting to pass a revolver to "Kid" Thompson last April, when Thompson was confined in the County Jail. The application is based upon the alleged fact that Judge Smith, while Tupper was on trial, was absent from the courtroom during part of the argument of the District Attorney. Mr. Mills contends that where a judgment is void it is reviewable on habeas corpus proceedings; that the argument is as much a part of the trial as the testimony; and that if the judge is absent, the proceedings are invalid.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Another San Diego Water Suit is

The State Supreme Court, sitting in bank in this city, has handed down a decision in the suit of V. E. Shaw vs. the San Diego Water Company. which the latter appears as defendant and appellant, the judgment of the lower court being affirmed.

The points involved in the case are that Shaw contracted with the water company for a supply of water in his house under the "family schedule," the rate, under the provisions of a city ordinance regulating the same, amountrate, under the provisions of a city ordinance regulating the same, amounting in the aggregate to $3.60 per month. The company had placed a meter in Shaw's house, and at end of the first month found that the amount of water used—under the meter schedule, diso regulated by ordinance—ran up to the sum of $11.10. A demand was made in accordance with the latter figures, and a refusal met with. The company then threatened to disconnect Shaw's house from the main, and the latter instituted injunction proceedings, which were afterward sustained in a trial of the case in the Superior

tains the judgment.

The city ordinance regulating water rates provides that contracts may beentered into between the property-holders and the water company upon family, meter and other schedules and that the use of a meter is optional with the first party. The company concedes this point, but holds that the meter rate charges in this particular instance were justified by a section of the ordinance in which the price per gallon was regulated, and that meter rates are chargeable in all cases where meters are put into buildings whether upon request or the pleasure of the company.

Another opinion handed down was in the case of the California Loan and Trust Company vs. H. F. Wels and W. Weinke, the latter appearing as defendants and appellants.

defendants and appellants.

The opinion states that in March, 1891, the Otay Water Company was the owner of a certain tract of land in controversy, and that time there was a mortgage upon the land, due from the water company from the plaintiff. For the purpose of taxation for the year 1891-2 the land was assessed at $720, of which $616 was assessed upon the mortgage interest and the remainder, $104, upon the interest of the water company. The latter's personal property also was assessed, the amount property also was assessed, the amount being $6200. The California Loan and being $6200. The California Loan and Trust Company paid the tax upon the mortgage interest, but the tax levied upon the owner's interest, as well as that upon the personal property, was allowed to go delinquent. Foreclosure proceedings were instituted, and the California Loan and Trust Company acquired a Sheriff's deed, the County Treasurer being tendered the full amount of redemption upon the real estate.

The Supreme Court holds that a tax upon personal property is a lien upon real estate, and that a demurrer filed by the defendants was improperly overruled by the lower court. "The judgment," the opinion concludes, "should be reversed, with directions to the trial court to sustain the demurrer, and it is so ordered."

Government began important work looking to the framing of a new city charter, and the nomination of a full ticket for the next city election. The first business was the election of about fifty new members, after which the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, that the Council be requested to amend its rules of procedure so as to first set a day for a public hearing before acting on any application for an extension of any franchise or portion of such, in order to give all parties interested an opportunity to be heard."

Quite a discussion took place as to when the league should make its, nominations. It was the sense of the meeting that this work should he denevery early, not later than January next. The Committee on Charter Plan was not ready to make a complete report, but at the next meeting they will probably favor the appointment of a charter committee, composed of delegates from the league, the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the Board of Trade, the present city government and from any and all organizations having an interest in a business municipal government. The purpose will be 'o frame a new and modern charter to be voted on before the next session of the Legislature.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S ASSAULT STILL A DARK MYSTERY.

Old Man's Sensational Accoun of the Affair-His Assertions Emphatically Denied by the Williams Family-No Arrests.

The Casebeer tragedy is still shrouded in deepest mystery. The statements made by the persons most interested in tectives are unable to arrive at any definite conclusions. At least they are very reticent about expressing any conclusions that they may have reached. Joseph W. Casebeer, the victim of Saturday night's murderous assault, still lies in the Receiving Hospital. He is improving slowly, but his condition is still such as to cause his friends and he police surgeon to advise against his removal to Santa Barbara, which place the patient is desirous of reach-ng as early as possible, as he says he ing as early as possible, as he says he has urgent business there.

The old man sticks to the statement first made to the detectives, which is to the effect that he wrote a letter to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, of No. 1536 Rock-wood street, dated Santa Barbara, October 8, informing them that he was going to visit them for the purpose of trying to effect a compromise of the $2000 judgment they had against him. He arrived in Los Angeles Saturday, and about 10 o'clock in the evening drove to the residence of his son-in-law in a hack. As he approached the house, he alleges, Williams came out and methim on the porch. They talked over the matter of a compromise, but Williams would not agree to anything. Seeing that his efforts were futile, the old man turned away, and Williams would make to his wife, Casebeer went to the side of the house, concealed himself under some bushes and listened to their conversation. Among other things, he alleges he heard his daughter, Mrs. Williams, say the old man ought to be killed. Presently he saw two persons leave the house and proceed toward First street. He left his hiding place soon after and started to make his way toward a friend's house on South Flower street. He left his as urgent business there.

make his way toward a friend's house on South Flower street. He had not proceeded far before he discovered that proceeded far before he discovered that two figures in some sort of flowing garments were following him. He ran up the Lucas-avenue hill, but was overtaken by his pursuers, and beaten into insensibility with a heavy cane. He thought one of his assailants was a

He thought one of his assallants was a woman.

In partial corroboration of his statement Casebeer gave the detectives a copy of the letter alleged to have been mailed by him to the Williamses from Santa Barbara. In it he reminds them of the many favors he had done for them, and says he now humbles him of the many favors he had done for them, and says he now humbles him self to ask mercy of them in the matter of collecting the judgment they had obtained against him for false imprisonment. He begs that they yield to a compromise before the lawyers get everything, and asks, for their children's sake, that the family differences be settled. He informs them that he will come unarmed and will do them no bodily harm.

A hackman named Lindley corrobotates Casebeer's story in respect to his visit to the Williams residence. Lindley says he drove Casebeer to they place, as stated by Casebeer, and saw, him enter the yard. The hackman drove away immediately and does not know what happened after the old man started for, the house.

The Williamses emphatically deny receiving the letter mentioned, and positively assert that the old man did not call at the house, nor did they know he was in the city at the time. Mrs. Williams, when questioned by the detectives, denied that any one left the house after 10 o'clock Saturday night. Williams, when questioned, alone, at mitted that he left his home about 10:20 o'clock that night to go to Mrs. Rogers's house, near by, to remain all night.

None of the neighbors could throw any light on the subject, but one or voman. In partial corroboration of his state-two recollected seeing the hack drive up about 10 o'clock, as stated by Case-beer and the hackman. Last evening, Williams, at the re-quest of Detective Goodman, con-fronted Casebeer in the Receiving Hos-nital Casebeer repeated his statement pital. Casebeer repeated his statement about the alleged interview with Wil-liams at the latter's front door, and Williams indignantly denied it. Although the old man's statement would suggest strongly that Williams and his wife were the instigators of the assault, if not the actual assailants, the detectives can see no motiv

the assault, if not the actual assaultants, the detectives can see no motive for such a crime on their part, and have therefore hesitated to prefer charges against them, or even to detain them on suspicion.

It is considered possible that, Casebeer was assaulted by footpads, who, seeing him running with a valies, singled him out for their prey. Fortunately he had no valuables of any consequence with him when assaulted. He had left the $350 which he brought with him from Santa Barbara, with a lady on Flower street for safe-keeping, when he started for the Williams residence. This woman had suggested the possibility or robbery, and prevalled upon him to give the money in her keeping. She has since turned it over to the police.

ANNEXED A DOG.

Williamson Wanted for Larceny at Santa Barbara. A horseman named George E. Williamson was arrested yesterday afteroon by Deputy Constable Quinn on warrant from Santa Barbara, charging him with larceny.

Williamson took one of the horses sold at the recent Potter sale to Santa Barbara for the purchaser. He registered at a hotel there as "Mr. Mc-Cracken." When he returned to Los Angeles he brought with him a fine cockér spaniel belonging to T. P. A. Williams. The dog has a pedigree a yard long, and is said to be valued at $150.

williams. The dog has a pedgree a yard long, and is said to be valued at $150.

Williamson says the animal made friends with him on the way to the train, and followed him to the depot. The friendship was reciprocated on Williamson's part, and as no one was there to object, he obtained passage for the dog in the baggage car, and paid its fare to Los Angeles.

The owner of the animal, learning of the manner of its departure, swore out a warrant for the arrest of "Mr. McCracken." Constable Trice telephoned the facts to Constable Johnson yesterday, and Deputy Quinn was detailed on the case. Quinn soon located "McCracken" and the dog at the Panorama Stables, but "McCracken's" true name turned out to be Williamson. The real McCracken had taken a horse to Riverside at the same time Williamson went to Santa Barbara.

Williamson was booked at the Police Station yesterday evening for petty larceny, but he gave bonds for his appearance at Santa Barbara when wanted. He admits that he paid the dog's fare to Los Angeles, but did not think that the animal had an owner who would care. The dog had a collar and license tag on when at horse in Santa Barbara, but the tag has now disappeared.

Three of the boys' playmates, Ernest Meyers, Fred Brown and Sumner Pace were importuned to accompany the boys, and the five started. They had no money with which to pay car fare, so started to walk. At the Arcade depot the 6:30 o'clock freight for Santa Monica came along. It was running slowly. The boys boarded it. It was not long before the park was reached, and the lads started to get off. Meyers, Brown and Pace alighted from the now rapidly-moving train all right. Powers fell and bumped his head severely, but was otherwise uninjured. Then Guy started. Just as he was about to jump off, his foot slipped and he fell beneath the cars, five of which passed over his body, severing it just above the waist.

the joint committee to promote a department of commerce and industry. Chicago, asking for the coöperation of the board in the movement for this new department of the mational government. The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the immense development of the manufacturing and mercantile interests of the United States renders comprehensive and reliable information respecting domestic trade and industrial enterprise, and the extension of our commerce with foreign countries, of the highest importance to national enterprise and the prosperity of the whole people; and, whereas, the great increase in the duties assigned to the State and Treasury departments is such as to embarrass the efficient administration of the legitimate duties of those departments; therefore, be it "Resolved, by the Los Angeles Board of Trade, that the Congress of the United States is urged to creat a Department of 'Commerce and Industry,' substantially as provided in Senate Bill No. 624, Fifty-fifth Congress, extra session, without delay. "Resolved, that a committee from this board be appointed to act in cooperation with similar committees from other organizations in securing prompt action by Congress."

The president was requested to appoint a committee to take this matter up, and he will announce his appointments later.

A letter was received from Charles J. Murphy, Brussels, commissioner in Europe for the State of Iowa, and late special representative abroad of the United States in inst., patterned after the one given by him so successfully some time ago at Copenhagen. The United States Minister will preside at the Brussels banquet, and 250 guests, including foreign ministers, consuls, military officials, etc., will be invited. SILENT SUFFERERS.

Women do not Like to Tell a Doctor the Details of Their Private Ills. The reason why so many women suffer in silence from the multiple disorders connected with their sexual system is that they cannot bear to broach the subject to a man, even if he is a physician.

No one can blame a modest, sensitive woman for this reticence. It is unnecessary in these times, however, for a woman makes to all afflicted women a most generous offer. Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., bids every woman who suffers to write to her and confide every symptom that annoys her, and she will give her advice without charge, and that advice is based upon the greatest experience ever possessed by man or woman in this country, and extends over period of twenty-three years, and thousands upon my sister, when you can get help for the asking? Don't fear to tell her everything.

BEST MADE FOR THE PRICE DAID Good

It's a good sign when a firm stays at the same business for twenty years. It's a good sign that people have been treated right. It's a good sign that what you buy of that store is good, or will be made good. A twenty-year career is a good sign that the store is full of the right kind of vitality and goods, It is a good sign of stability and progress, because no store can prosper for twenty years if it is in a rut. New blood must flow-young men come to the front, OFFICE OF THE TIMES, Los Angeles, Oct. 12, 1897.

REDUCTION IN INSURANCE
RATES. A great reduction in insurance rates on property in San Francisco was made on the first of this month by the Board of Underwriters of the Pacific Coast. The cut amounted to 15 per cent. of risks written after that date on property located in certain sections of San Francisco.

The portions of the city that received the benefit of the cut are what are known as outside districts, and would the benefit of the cut are want are known as outside districts, and would not come so immediately under the care of the paid fire department if one were established; at least, that is the claim made by the insurance people, and that is the reason that the cut of 15 per cent, was not also made on property in the business portion of the city. The Call says: "As it is, the city will save between $50,000 and $75,000 per year on insurance. This is a rough estimate, but the figures will not be far from the correct mark. Had the tax levy been sufficient to have warranted a better fire department the reduction on the business portion of the city would have made an annual saving to taxpayers of about $250,000. The cost of a paid fire department would have been $114,000 per year, so that the taxpayers would have been greatly benefited had not the silurian methods of false economists prevailed."

PRODUCE THEIR OWN OIL. One of the interesting features of the local oil business is the fact that several of oil business is the fact that several of the largest consumers of oil are be-coming producers also. The Electric Railway Company, Maier & Zobelein's brewery and the City Water Company are all producing oil in the city, and the Santa Fé Company has wells of its own at Fullerton, in Orange county.

SAVING THE SKINS. The careful SAVING THE SKINS. The careful business methods, by which nothing is allowed to go to waste, which prevail in Europe, are beginning to be introduced in this country. According to an eastern trade paper, a New Jersey firm has established a catsup factory in the yard of a cannery at Camden, N. J., where they utilize the tomato skins.

A WONDERFUL BOAT. A boat that A WONDERFUL BOAT. A boat that will travel at the rate of a mile a minute, crossing the Atlantic in a day, and which, if successful, will revolutionize ship-bullding—that is what is claimed for Knapp's roller boat, a picture and description of which is given in Saturday Night, of Toronto, in which city one of these boats is now approaching completion. The Toronto paper says:

in Saturday Night, of Toronto, in which city one of these boats is now approaching completion. The Toronto paper says:

"It is cylindrical in shape, 110 feet long and 25 feet in diameter. Five feet from either end the diameter quickly declines to 15 feet. This boat does not run end first and cut through the water, but presents its broadside of 110 feet to the waves, and is expected to roll along on top of the waves, drawing only 23 inches of water. This big barrel is driven by engines that sit on platforms inside, and it is armed with flanges that grip the water as does the wheel of an ordinary steamboat. The outside cylinder revolves, while the interior remains stationery. It is understood that the heavy inside stationery cylinder resting on ball bearings, will not be put in at present, but merely the platforms and driving engines, so that a test of the board may be made before winter sets in. The boat is intended to weigh 100 tons.

"Mr. Knapp has a model 9 feet long and 3 feet in diameter, and by practical demonstration satisfied himself that the roller boat will work. In reply to the objection raised by some that a head wind would stop the boat, Mr. Knapp appears to have said, according to an article in the Telegram: With the craft running a mile a minute it will have a pressure of 18 pounds per square foot area forward. A forty-mile gale against it would blow 8 pounds per square foot area forward. A forty-mile gale against it would blow a pounds per square foot area forward. A forty-mile gale against such a gale. This is a very startling proposition—that the boat wull travel at the rate of a mile a minute. Conceive if you can, a vessel rolling over the mountainous billows of the Atlantic in one day.

"Frederick Augustus Knapp, the inventor of the roller boat, is a lawyer of Prescott, Ont. He is a great-grand-son of Col. Hazleton Spencer a U. E. Loyalist, who, after being a Judge in Vermont, came to Ontaria and assisted Gov. Simcoe to organize Upper Canada. Mr. Knapp is a graduate of McGill, where he obtain where he obtained the degree of D.C.L. He was three years practicing law in Montreal with Donald McMaster, Q.C., and then removed to Prescott. The whole world awaits the trial trip of the roller boat."

PRUNES IN FRANCE. It seems like shipping coals to New Castle to ship prunes to France, yet that is being done at present from the Northern part of the State. In this country the California prune has replaced the French product as completely as the California raisin has taken the place of the Spanish fruit.

EXPENSIVE MACHINERY. A few days ago Claus Spreckels paid into the customhouse of San Francisco $54,000 as duty on machinery for the manufacture of the beet sugar, imported by him from Europe. This is the second large payment being made by Mr. Spreckels for the same purpose, the previous one being $29,000. Yet first-class beet-sugar machinery is now being made in this country.

On this subject Mr. Spreckels says, as quoted in the Call: "There is much machinery made to better advantage in this country than in Germany This is true especially of the centrifugal machinery, the 9000-horse-power engine which was made by the Babcock & Wilcox factory and of the electric machinery and pumps. But there is a great deal of the machinery which cannot be made without special appliances, such as exist in the great German machine shops only. If the sugar industry goes forward generally in this country the Risdon and the Union Iron Works will make the machines necessary for the manufacture of all the machinery needed in the beet business. It would be almost impossible to have this work all done here now, but we have bought everything possible in this country, as we intend to do in all this work."

On the other hand it should be noted that machinery in the Alamitos factory is all of American make. It comes from Cleveland, O., with the exception of the centrifugals, which are from Massachusetts.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Much parade was made yesterday of the alleged conversion of some of the leading bear operators on the exchange to the bull side of the market. NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: "The stock markets were quiet today, trading being absorbed with the commencement of the settlement, which reveals only a moderate account, with fairly light contangoes, those on Americans being usually 3½ per cent. There was a better tone in Americans, but the only pronounced rise was in Canadas and Norfolk and Western, both of which were largely bought. The close was at the best. In the other markets the only feature was the continued boom in Australians. New York was bidding keenly for bar gold in the open market today at about 77s 11½d. More eagles will probably leave the Bank of England before long. Today's withdrawalis of gold from the bank are for Germany, which is also a strong buyer of gold. The Paris bourse was dull and sensitive. The Berlin market was dull, being generally adversely affected by the Imperial Bank of Germany declining to discount a certain kind of paper formerly discounted. It means some curtailment of the credit system, and assists the monetary stringency in Germany."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Wheat was quite weak at the opening, December, which closed yesterday at 91%@91½ cents, starting today at 90%@90%. The government statement in its October report that the estimate of area and condition of wheat was withheld pending special investigation was given a very bearish construction by the trade. It was taken as notice that the previous estimate of area was to be increased. This, and the weaker ione at Liverpool, which market opened %@4d lower, and the local decune in corn made the trade bearish. Despite the weakness in Liverpool, the French markets were irmer, and there were indications of continued French buying at the seaboard. The Northwestern receipts showed a marked falling off. Duluth and Minneapolis received 1257 cars, against 1659 cars a week ago and 1432 cars the corresponding day last year. Notwithstanding the bearish temper of the trade, the inarket declined very slowly. It even sold up a trifle shortly after the opening, December advancing to 50%@91. By 11 o'clock it was nelling around 90. As the day advanced, however, it became decidedly unpleasant for holders of wheat. The Bradstreet statement showed an increase in the world's visible of $2,12.500 bushels for the week, where an increase of not over 3.00.000 was expected. This caused renswed selling, December declining to 39%, 25. der decidedly free liquidation. The Laverpool closing was %@1d lower than yesterday, and the continental markets, which had been strong at the call, closed with slight decilnes. There was nothing in the day's record of wheat movement to discourage a holder. Primary markets received 1.319,000 bushels, against 1.540,000 bushels a year $go.

The Atlantic exports equaled 710,000 bushels. New York reported export wagagements of fifty boat loads. After the effect of the Bradstreet statement had been spent, the tenor of

Boston Wool Market.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—The wool market here has shown a-quieter tone this week, although prices are held firmer for most classes of wools. Territory wools still head the list in the amount of business transactions, and the price is a trifle higher, taking the market as a whole. About 50 cents accoured for fine medium and fine is the general established price in the market. Staple wools would go higher, but the supply is very measer. The demand for Australian wools continue, with full prices obtainable. Quotations: Territory wools—Montana, fine medium and fine, 16@18; scoured, 49@50, staple, 52@55; Utah. IGHTWATCHMAN MISTAKEN FOR A HIGHWAYMAN.

Three Boys Badly Scared by the Supposed Robber-Validity o the Hitching Ordinance to Tested—The City's Credit.

PASADENA, Oct. 12.—[Regular Correspond-ence.] On Sunday night Private Watchman Wright, who patrols Orange Grove avenue, against the patrols of the patrols of the patrols of the policy. That fact has already been printed, but there was a little episode preceding that arrest that has not found itself in print up to the present time.

Burglaries had become so frequent in the Burglaries had become so frequent in the vicinity of Orange Grove avenue that the private watchman was a little shaky about retaining his position, hence he secured a relative to assist him in the capture of the burglar. Wright has a very long distance to cover, and it was an easy matter for a would-be burglar to watch him start from the northerly end of his beat to go to the southerly end, and as he had two miles to cover in that one direction it left a clear field for a burglar to work in, secure his booty and make good his escape before Wright could again get, to the other end of the avenue. Wright was determined to get a burglar on Sunday night, if any burglar was plying his trade, so he formulated a set of signals with his cousin, and while one man was at one end of the avenue, the other started from the other end, and they met half way.

It happened that on the evening in question three young men were enjoying a moonlight.

end or the avenue, the other started from the other end, and they met half way.

It happened that on the evening in question three young men were enjoying a moonlight ride. The young men are of respectable parehtage, and are known to be quiet, industrious fellows. As they drove up Orange Grove avenue and were about to turn into California, street, a man stepped out toward their team and ordered them to stop. They were terribly frightened at what they supposed was a highwayman, and one of the highwayman got quto highwayman and one of the animal responded quickly, and the supposed highwayman got quto his wheel and started in pursuit, at the same time firing a rhot from his revolver at the now thoroughly-scared boys. In his endeavor to get a good aim. Watchman Wright, for it was he who ordered the boys to stop, rode his wheel into the gutter and fell off. He then fired two more lasts, which did no more harm, fortunated, than to awaken all the residents in the vicinity for quite a distance.

The three boys drove madly down California street to Marengo avenue, holding on to the seat as they drove across the steam railroad tracks, and finally headed for the center of town to notify the police of the attempted hold-up. They told of their adventure to the officers. The shots had been heard pisinly in acters. Wright came up at this juncture. The regular police were on the point of going to the vicinity where the highwayman was supposed to be, when the watchman spoke up and said he was the man who did the shooting, and he did so because the young men deny. They also state that just before Wright spoke to them, another man called to them, but they paid no attention and drove on, and were talking of the first attempted hold-up, as it seemed to them, when they were again confronted with a man demanding them to stop. They were all unarmed, otherwise they say they would have shot at the watchman, whom they presumed was a highwayman. Thus the Sunday night shooting is explained. Several nours later, however. DIFFICULTIES MET IN BUILDING THE NEWPORT RAILROAD.

Murderer, Proposes to Have Some Post-mortem Revenge. Charges Preferred Against an Officer-News Notes.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 12.—[Regular Correspondence.] Trouble has been experienced in the peat lands by the men employed in laying the track of the Westminster extension of the Newport Railroad. The line was graded several weeks ago, and the track was laid on an earthwork about seven feet above the level of the adjacent land. Since then, however, the grade and the track have been sinking, and the efforts of the graders to maintain the track at the elevation seem to be fruitless.

FELLOWS WILL CALL. Anti-spitting Ordinance Referred to the City Attorney.

POMONA, Oct. 12.—[Regular Correspondence.] The City Trustees today considered an ordinance forbidding expectoration on sidewalks and in places of public assemblage. The discussion of the question was very lively and indicated a doubt as to the passage of the ordinance, which was referred to the City Attorney for a week.

There were a dozen people present at the meeting to protest against the passage of the hotel license ordinance, and after considerable talk by the visitors, the Trustees passed the ordinance without discussion, the vote being on strict party lines, 4 to 1.

An ordinance was presented jn accordance with a petition from business houses imposing a license of $5 per day upon "cheap johns" who faisely advertise to conduct as assignee's sale. The ordinance is designed especially to forbid the false advertisement of goods.

Fellows has instructed the officers here to convey to Louis Mendelson of Capistrano the cheerful news that if he (Fellows) is hanged he will pay Mendelson a visit on the night of the execution. He has had a grudge against Mendelson, who prosecuted him in a former case to which he and Garcia, whom he murdered, were parties. Garcia won the suit, and at that time Fellows intimated that both Garcia and Mendelson would be made to pay for it. After the killing of Garcia had been accomplished, it will be remembered, Fellows went around to the Mendelson house, and it was suspected that he intended to wind up Mendelson 'affairs on the same occasion, and settle the score with him as he did with Garcia. What Fellows intends to do to Mendelson after he is executed he did not state, but he is coming, any way.

PLANS OF THE ENGINEERS.

PLANS OF THE ENGINEERS. PLANS OF THE ENGINEERS.
Engineers Leslie and Rider submitted their complete plans and specifications with estimates of cost of the proposed sewer, to the City Trustees Monday evening. The data are compiled in an official report, which will be the basis of future action by the board. The Trustees will submit the plans to a number of experts in order to detect any technical or legal flaws that may have been overlooked in preparing the estimates. Then the report will be accepted, as the plan of the sewer and bids will be advertised for according to the specifications.
The line of the sewers will be 99,610 feet.

and bids will be advertised for according to the specifications.

The line of the sewers will be 99,610 feet in length, covering the entire city, and will cost, when laid and properly equipped with manholes and flushtanks, $47,600. The filter bed, which is to be constructed at the outlet, will cost $1200, making the entire cost, 58,600. This does not include the price of the land on which the filter bed is to be constructed, but the cost of this is something near $1800 additional. The engineers explained that many of the figures were high, and the intention had been to leave a slight margin above the actual cost, so the entire cost may safely be brought down to $60,000, and for this amount bonds will be voted.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 12. — [Regular Correspondence.] Two other employés of the Silver King Mining Company have brought suit to recover the amount of wages alleged to be due them. Marcus Pluth wants $847.60, interest on the same from August 14, 1887, $80 for attorneys' fees and the costs of the suit. Charles Mace has a bill for $900.25 against the company, in addition to which he asks interest from the date above named. $90 and for this amount bonds will be voted.

CHARGE AGAINST AN OFFICER.

James Trew is preparing a complaint which will be laid before the City Trustees, charging Night Watchman Clement with indiscretion and conduct unbecoming an officer. He made his charge verbally before the board Monday evening, but the board deferred action until the matter had been properly presented in the shape of a formal complaint.

These charges grow out of the arrest of Trew Saturday evening for fighting. He was engaged in an encounter with a man named Charles Moore, when they were separated and both placed under arrest by the officer. Both were released on their own recognizance, and Moore has since failed to show up. Trew was tried on the charge of misdemeanor and dismissed.

Trew alleges that Moore was carrying a concealed weapon, which he endeavored to use until prevented by Trew. He believes that the officer did not use discretion in allowing Moore to escape with the weapon in his possession.

Night Watchman Clements is said to be prepared to make charges of a different nature against Trew should he undertake by any means to deprive him of his star.

The suit of Hubert Rees of San Francisco against W. B. Artz of Tustin was today de-cided in favor of the defendant by Judge Ballard. Artz shipped a quantity of apri-cots to San Francisco, on which the sum of $604.98 was paid by the San Francisco firm. The plaintiff alleged that the fruit had been received in bad condition, and was not ac-cording to sample furnished. He asked to recover the money advanced. The defendant demurred to the complaint.

British Vice-Consul Investigates Complaints of English Sailors. Complaints of English Sailors.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 12.—[Regular Correspondence.] British Vice-Consul Mortimer has investigated the complaints of sailors in the crew of the British ship Aradale, now lying at Port Los Angeles. The men complained that they were not supplied with good food on the passage from Swanasa around Cape Horn, that the food was cooked in sea water instead of fresh water, and that the man who died on the voyage/was not afforded proper treatment. The Vice-Consul finds that the food supply was sufficient, although the smen had to go without fresh meat for an unusually long period. On one occasion a mistake was made so that sait water instead of fresh water was used in making coffee. Special food was given to the sick. The members of the crew were kired in Swanses for the round trip. When they arrived at Port Los Angeles it appeared that they found the wages paid sailors shipping from this part of the Pacific Coast were considerably higher than the wages at which Tuesday.

City Marshal Wilson reported collections to the amount of $980.60 for September, $591.60 of which was paid on taxes and $241.50 for city licenses.

The collections in the electric-light department amounted to $611.80.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 12.—[Regular Correspondence.] There is considerable excitement among prospectors in Romero Cañon, about eleven miles back of El Monteclto. Seventeen claims were filed here yesterday, and this is only the beginning. Some of the assays are reported as running $18 per ton. Gold has been supposed to exist in this cañon for fifty years or more by native Callifornians. The claims have been located principally by old residents familiar with the locality. Some placers are also accredited among the discoveries.

Fred Vischer came in to Arroyo Grande Friday from his mines on the Santa Maria River, and exhibited some very fine gold from a placer claim, also promising specimens of quartz and samples of onys. It is beginning to be believed throughout the county, generally, that its large mountainous districts contain something more than scenery.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 12.—[Regular Correspondence.] The board of delegates of the Common Council, held an interesting session Monday evening, during which a large amount of important business was transacted. The City Attorney precipitated a sensation when he presented his opinion on a resolution directing him to prepare an ordinance licensing tape games, nickle-in-the-slot machines, stock exchanges and pawn-brokers. It was to the effect that if the members of the Council voted for such a license they would lay themselves liable to conviction for felony. In support of his opinion the City Attorney cited section 350 of the Penal Code, which provides that every person who deals, plays or carries on, opens, or causes to be opened, or who conducts, either as owner or employs, whether for hire or not, any game of faro, monte, lans-quenet, rouge-et-noire, rondo, tan, fan-tan, stud-horse poker, seven and a half, twenty-one, hokey-pokey, or any banking or percentage game, played with cards, dice or any device for money, checks, credit or other representative of value, and every person who plays or bets at or against any of said prohibited games, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine not less than $100 or not more than $500, or by imprisonment.
